World Evangelist

Lesson for September 24, 1950.

IT IS not only the ignorant and the prejudiced who claim that Protestant Christianity did not start till the 17th Century. Even Protestants can make this mistake. The real founder of Protestantism is Saint Paul. What the Reformers of the 17th Century did was to rediscover Paul. The doctrine of Protestantism is not a new invention of Luther, not a variety nor a quick, still less a heresy, they are simply Christianity according to Saint Paul. If for no other reason, Paul is one of the most important figures in Christian history, perhaps in all history.

The World is My Parish. THERE is another reason why Paul is important. It is not too much to say that if it had not been for him, there never would have been any Christianity, as a world religion. It would have died as a Jewish sect.

What the history of the world would have been in that case, God only knows. But although our so-called Christian era is still not exactly Christian, it is vastly different from what it would have been if Christianity had been no more (say) than Essenism, a word we would have to look up in the encyclopedia, an antique forgotten sect.

To many unnamed Christians, but to Paul more than any other person, we owe the fact that ours is a religion with a world-outlook.

First Great Missionary. PAUL was not a typical Christian any more than George Washington was a typical American. To this day, missionaries can hardly be called typical Christians. They are far too few, and their quality is far too high, to stand for the "average" Christian—who in fact does not even understand missionaries, as a rule. Nevertheless, the missionary now as in Paul's time is the burning-point of Christianity, the front-line patrol, the cutting edge.

What made Paul a missionary makes missionaries today. One thing was his vital experience of Christ. Jesus, for Paul, was not some body he had read about in a book, he was not a statue on an altar or a picture in a museum, he was not a definition in a catechism. Jesus was Some One he had met on the Damascus Road.

Second, Paul loved people, all kinds of people. (After his conversion, not before!) He could see in the most pitiful little moron of a slave-girl, the nearest jester, a sister or brother for whom Christ died, as he put it. Nowadays you sometimes hear church people saying about others outside the church, "They're not my kind. They wouldn't make good Presbyterians (or Baptists or whatever the speaker's church may be)." It never occurred to Paul that anybody would not make a good Christian. If only Jesus Christ got hold of him.

Furthermore, Paul had a world-horizon. There are hole-and-corner Christians and there are world-Christians. Paul was a world-Christian. He "thought big." To this day, the wide-horizon, big-thinking Christians are either out there on the mission field, somewhere, or they are supporting missions with all their might.

Bibles Across the Sea. THERE is one thing which you, reader of these lines, can do right now, if you have some of this world-view. This week, today, you can help in a great missionary enterprise which is not confined to any denomination.

Over in Japan, General MacArthur says, Christianity and the Bible are the dykes holding up the flood of Communism. Dr. Shiro Murata, a Japanese Christian, also says: "The eyes of Japan are fixed on two books. One is Das Kapital by Karl Marx. The other is the Holy Bible. Japan is at the crossroads."

A campaign is being conducted this year to send to Japan five million Bibles and Testaments. The Japanese can read, they have the largest non-Christian population in the world reading one language. Through your local church, or even by yourself, you can contribute to this great undertaking by bringing the Bible to a people sorely needing it.

GOOD HEALTH

WHY IS DIABETES INCREASING?
IS SMALLPOX A FREQUENT CAUSE OF DEATH?

Answer to Question No. 1: 1. Hemorrhage has been the outstanding cause of maternal death but it is being conquered. Many hospitals have adopted blood transfusion programs so that childbirth is now much safer. For instance, after the Woman's Clinic of New York Hospital put in such a program only one death from hemorrhage occurred in 14,000 deliveries.

Answer to Question No. 2: 2. For the same reason that cancer and heart diseases are increasing—we now live long enough to develop such ailments. America has made astounding progress in recent years and, as one disease after another has been conquered and more and more health services are available to our people, medicine has been faced with the problem of attacking a new group of diseases. The attack on diabetes has triumphed—it can be detected early and often prevented, provided you follow your doctor's advice.

Answer to Question No. 3: 3. Not any more. Smallpox has been all but eradicated as a cause of death in the United States and in some areas is so rare a disease that many young physicians have never encountered a case. Diphtheria, typhoid fever, and whooping cough are other diseases which have been reduced radically by preventive techniques which are a commonplace nowadays.

CRITICAL TIMES AHEAD FOR ALABAMA SCHOOLS

Future of education in Alabama hangs in the balance this year as the sources of school revenue furnish less income and growing population pushes attendance up and up. The consequent need is for more money, teachers and classrooms instead of the fewer imposed by restricted finances. During the fiscal year starting Oct. 1, regular school taxes and other sources of revenue for public education are expected to furnish less income than before. But for schools to maintain even their present level, they will need an additional $10 million.

Alabama spent $86.80 per pupil enrolled last year. That was after digging into an $8 million surplus. After this year, with even more students, that surplus will be gone. And right now the 48 cents per day spent on each student is little more than one-half the national average.

What the outlook for schools will be when they convene a year from now is a problem that has educators and lawmakers figuring overtime. No one seems to know the answer. W. J. Perry, state superintendent-elect, has said that unless additional money comes from decreased state services in other departments, more taxes of some kind for school use are almost inevitable.

Brooklyn, Ala. was named for Edwin Robinson, who in 1820 bought the ferry across Sepulga River from one Mr. Cumpton. Robinson then opened a store and named the spot from his hometown, Brooklyn, Conn.

Snorkel Causes Health Problems For Submariners

SAN FRANCISCO. The snorkel, a long tube invented by the Germans to enable a submerged vessel to breathe air from its own engine, presents a number of new complications to life aboard a sub, a navy medical officer reports.

Rear Adm. H. L. Pugh reports it can produce a physical effect something like being tossed 10,000 feet in the air.

Sudden changes in humidity can aggravate minor illnesses of those aboard.

The air pressure can vary so rapidly that it can cause men to bleed through their ears.

Despite the snorkel's merits as a more or less constant source of fresh air to those submerged, it is possible that personnel cannot endure 60-day periods aboard. "That was about the time limit on old-style submarines. It may have to be shortened."

These were among a long list of medical disclosures about submarine life reported by Admiral Pugh at a recent meeting of the American Medical Association.

Endurance May Drop

The snorkel sticks out of the water a few feet. At the open end, where air is sucked in, is a valve which closes automatically when a wave engulfs it.

Despite this safety gadget, submarine compartments can become flooded because of a lag in the valve's operation. This happens when a wave hits and engulfs the open end, or when an inefficient helmsman fails to keep the ship at a certain level, or when there is a mechanical failure in the depth control apparatus.

The rush of water floods men and machinery. The closing of the valve shuts off the air supply. But the engines keep going, rapidly gulping air. The engines act like vacuum pumps, decreasing atmospheric pressure.

This can produce thin air like that 10,000 feet above sea level. It hasn't caused any ill effects on personnel yet, but is a potential menace to men who need sure and steady hands and heads to keep the complicated machinery going.

Because the snorkel permits long periods of submerged cruising while the old-style submarine had to come up for air every night or so, crew endurance may be less than formerly.

New Hazards

Another medical hazard is the "lung" which permits men to escape individually from sunken submarines. When a man is rising rapidly to the surface, the pressure of the water around him is

91-Year-Old Traveler Gets Chance to Climb Mountain

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Mrs. Rosa B. Kellog has always wanted to climb a mountain. But now she is 91 and it seemed unlikely she would get the opportunity.

Recently, however, she got a chance and she was determined to realize her ambition despite her age. She plans to climb her mountain in Alaska this summer. She left recently on a travel tour.

"My friends seem to be worried about my going," said Mrs. Kellog as she went out packing for the trip.

"But I feel fine," she declared. "Why stay at home when I love to travel?"

Warned that living conditions might not be as comfortable as the 11 room home in which she lived, Mrs. Kellog replied:

"I wouldn't care if I had to sleep on the floor as long as I could join in the fun with the others."

Neighbors Help Family Of Accused American Spy

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—The wife and family of an American who is being held as a Russian spy are getting financial aid to meet living costs from neighbors.

The Rev. Owen E. Ruhlledge, Methodist minister, and Charles H. Richards, a grocer, are directing a fund to support Mrs. Alfred Dean Slack and her children, Joe, 4, and Tommy, 2, and not for her husband's defense.

Mrs. Lewis Slack, sister-in-law of the accused man, said the family's income was cut off by the arrest. She said their home had been mortgaged and was still unfinished. She said it probably could not be sold or rented.

John McKee of Virginia was a Choctaw Indian agent in Alabama from 1912-21. His log cabin at Bolligee was the first house built in Greene County. He was a cousin of Gen. Sam Houston.

Revival

Rev. O. C. Hicks will start a revival meeting at Wise's Mill Church on Sept. 28 at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Mr. & Mrs. C. B. McDowell left for Carrollton and other points in Missouri Sept. 22 to visit relatives of Mrs. McDowell who are ill. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mr. & Mrs. Billy Farris and son, W. Kay 11, left Wednesday for Nashville where they will reside while Mr. Farris is attending college there. His mother, Mrs. W. Kay Farris, accompanied them as far as Montgomery.

Mr. & Mrs. Vinson Swain have moved from Alexandria, Va., to Enterprise. They are expecting to have employment at Camp Rucker.

Mr. & Mrs. S. F. Carney of Montgomery were guests of Judge and Mrs. J. A. Carney on Sunday afternoon.

Local Court

Ward's Ute Tribe $1,700,000 Claim

WASHINGTON—The Federal Court of Claims has awarded the Ute Indian tribes of Colorado and Utah $1,700,000 in settlement of a land dispute dating back to 1881. Consisting of four judgments, one for $24,255,127, the settlement is said to be the largest ever made against the government by the court.

The judgments are in payment for more than 8,000,000 acres of land taken from the Utes by the government between 1891 and 1939. The land involved consists largely of mountainous areas in western Colorado, ranging in elevation from 8,000 to 15,000 feet. It has a high mineral value. Besides two producing oil fields, it includes extensive deposits of vanadium, major coal reserves, what is said to be the largest deposit of shale oil in the United States and more than 4,000,000 acres of grazing land.

Actually the land has been the subject of a tug of war between the Indians and the government since 1881. That year the government by treaty set aside 15,000,000 acres in western Colorado for the Utes.

The government later bought back 4,000,000 acres and eventually took over the rest. This action resulted in the long and involved litigation.

Lawyers for the Utes said that approximately 60 per cent of the award would go to Utes living in Utah, the remainder to Utes in Colorado. The award was said to represent more than $10,000 for each member of the confederated tribes.

Bessemer for years has been known as the "Marble City."

Mother of Youth Who Set Fire to Shrine Kills Self

KYOTO, Japan—Mrs. Shinako Hayashi, 49, mother of the youth who is accused of setting fire to Kyoto's ancient shrine, the Golden Pavilion, threw herself to death from a speeding train "to atone for her son's crime."

Before leaving to return to her home, she told reporters she would die for her son to atone for the crime. Her son, who also attempted suicide, told police he set fire to the pavilion because he was "jealous of its beauty."

Shaw Requested No Gifts, Cards on 94th Birthday

LONDON, England—George Bernard Shaw, who was 94 on July 26, asked not to be reminded of the anniversary. He sent messages to persons who, on the basis of past performances, might be expected to pester him again.

"Mr. Bernard Shaw implores his friends and acquaintances not to celebrate his birthday, nor even to mention them to him. It is easy to write one letter or send one birthday cake, but the arrival of hundreds of them together is a calamity that is not the less dreaded because it occurs only once a year."

"Acknowledgment of such unwelcome letters and gifts is not possible."

B. W. C. MEETS

The B. W. C. held its semi-monthly meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bill Martin. The meeting opened with the group singing "Blessed Be The Name." Mrs. Gussie Hutchinson read the 121st Psalm and led in prayer.

Mrs. Georgia Mahis presided during a business session. Mrs. Cecil Prescott, treasurer, reported all bills paid and a small amount in the treasury.

Miss Gladys Clark taught the concluding chapter of "The Prophet of Little Cane Creek." The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Neil Hutto.

During a social hour the hostesses served a salad plate with fruit drink. In addition to those already named those present were: Mrs. Corinne English, Mrs. Baxter Bryan, Miss Lottie Fortner, Miss Bettie Head, Mrs. M. A. Owen and Mrs. J. W. Kendrick.

SHOWER HONORS MRS. PACE

Mrs. John D. Pace, who previous to her recent marriage was Miss Wayne King, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Ellis King, was honored Thursday afternoon when a group of her friends entertained at a miscellaneous shower, given at the home of Miss Maragom Whitman.

The bridal tones of white and green were accentuated in the decoration. Pretty arrangements of white cut flowers mixed with greenery were used.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Jim Whitman who presented them to the receiving line, composed of Miss Maragom Whitman, Mrs. John D. Pace Jr., the honoree; Mrs. Ellis King, her mother; Mrs. J. D. Pace, Sr., mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Owen Reeder, the honoree's sister-in-law and Miss Helen Braswell, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Warren McFerrill, the bride's sister, presided at the bride's book and Miss Ann Dunaway was in the gift room. From a lace covered table, beautiful in its appointments of crystal and silver, party refreshments were served by Misses Gennette Fleming, Maxine Vaughan and Mrs. John L. Green. Approximately 50 guests called from 5 to 8 p. m.

New Dishwasher Has Whirling Water Tower

There's a "big squirt" in this new, automatic dishwasher. It's a Jet Tower that throws powerful sprays of water from every angle. The machine is said to save two-thirds of the time housewives normally spend cleaning up after meals. Dishes need not be pre-rinsed; the water used is booster heated and the jets are so directed that they clean dishes, glassware, silverware and pans with a shearing action. The washing and rinsing cycle takes less than 10 minutes.

21 Japs on Pacific Island Still at War With U. S.

HONOLULU, H. I. — Twenty-one Japanese are still at war with the United States. The navy has announced that the island of Atafu, in the northern Marianas is so small and unimportant it won't risk sending a landing party to take the 21 Japs. still holding out against American forces.

The navy has tried everything short of war to get them out. Pamphlets and food have been dropped from planes. Boats circle the island broadcasting over loudspeakers that World War II is over.

The Japs are not convinced. The navy said it hopes the Japanese will "tire of their present existence and surrender." One Japanese woman surrendered to a small navy field party June 30.

Torso of 18-Year-Old Boy Found in Stomach of Shark

GALVESTON, Tex. — Galveston officials were horrified and puzzled when they found the torso of a youth, perhaps 17 or 18 years old and between five feet and five feet five inches tall, inside a shark.

The skipper of a shrimp boat told puzzled officers his crew netted the nine foot man eater in the bay and tossed the shark overboard in the harbor after it died.

Z. L. Naughtman, chief marine biologist for the Texas game, fish and oyster commission and an expert on sharks, said the shark could have found its human meal a long way from Galveston. A shark can swim 20 miles in a day, he said. He estimated it would take a shark about three days to digest a human body.

Naughtman also said that it is possible the shark did not attack the youth, but devoured the body after the youth had drowned or died in some other manner.

Mr. & Mrs. Rallin Soward and Miss Maragom Whitman went children of Texarkana, Ark. are to Chipley, Ga. Thursday where visiting her parents, Mr. & Mrs. she will attend a B. S. U. training class for three days.

Stilian Banditi Shot Down After Seven-Year Hunt

CASTELVETRANO, Sicily—The most celebrated bandit of modern times, following a record hunt, has been killed. Salvatore Giuliano, elusive king of Sicilian bandits, was shot down by police after a hunt of seven years.

A special Italian national police detachment made the kill after trailing the swarthy, dark-eyed gunman for days with a radio car camouflaged as a newspaper truck. The detachment formed part of a 2,000-man force which had hunted Giuliano for 10 months.

The skirmish marked the end of a man accused of killing nearly 100 policemen and scores of other civilians, a man who defied Italian authorities in barbed declarations and proclaimed his own "free state of Sicily" after he took to the hills in 1943.

Challenged Officials
Italy's interior minister, Mario Scelba, said it marked the end of banditry in Sicily. The bandit king, whom friends regarded as a Robin Hood because of the way he shared the loot of his robberies and kidnappings, had been a fugitive since he slew a policeman who tried to seize a load of black market wheat from him September 3, 1943.

Officers had been close on Giuliano's heels for two weeks. Then just before dawn on July 5, Giuliano turned to get away, but fell dead by a tree.

The bandit once "declared" war on Italy as the commander in chief of a bandit force of about 20 men. Several years ago he challenged 10 government leaders to fight him, one at a time.

"If I lose, it will be my life," he wrote. "If I win, I will take over the government."

Price on Head
An interior minister once put a price of 500,000 lire (about $850) on Giuliano's head. Giuliano came back with an offer of 600,000 lire (about $1,000) for the minister's head.

Giuliano had been termed a fiery anti-Communist. He was charged with turning machine guns on a May Day parade near Palermo in 1947, killing eight persons and wounding 33.

Athletic Woman Swings Man to Safety on Porch

CHICAGO, Ill.—Women are called the weaker sex, but it isn't always so. Mrs. Gloria Schmidt, 25, who weighs 200 pounds, heard cries of help from her back porch. She found Joseph Vogt, 63, clinging to a third floor window sill, 35 feet above the ground, by his fingertips.

Vogt had returned home and found himself locked out of his apartment. He leaned over, trying to reach a window from his back porch, but slipped over the railing.

Mrs. Schmidt leaned out and grabbed Vogt by the armpits. She shouted to him to let go and swung him in an arc through the air until he hung suspended by his ankles.

"I'll try to hold you until the fire department comes," she gasped.

But the 180 pound Vogt was too heavy and Mrs. Schmidt was afraid the porch railing would give way. She lowered him as far as she could and swung him, head down, to the second floor porch below.

Physicians said Vogt suffered a brain concussion when he struck his head on the porch floor. But police said he had Mrs. Schmidt to thank for being alive.

Barbers Invent Pole To Foil Town Jokers

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Two Superior barbers had trouble keeping a barber pole in front of their place of business. Several times poles have been carted off, even though they weighed about 200 pounds.

When city workers recently prepared to cut down a tree in the front of the shop of John P. Grant and Felix P. Cross, the two barbers asked that it be sawed off six feet from the ground.

The barbers peeled the bark off the stump and painted red and white and blue stripes on it. They don't expect to have further trouble.

Clifton Webb, Movie Baby Sitter, Catches Mumps

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Clifton Webb, the movie and stage star, who gained his greatest fame in the movies as a baby sitter, caught the mumps recently.

Seems he caught them from juvenile actress Gail Perreau, with whom he was making a picture. Webb, 50, acted as a baby sitter in the movie "Sitting Pretty."

The next series of Saturday extension classes to be offered by Troy State Teachers College is scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. on Sept. 23. Classes will be organized in all subjects for which ten or more students enroll. The program is planned so that a teacher may complete as many as two three-hour courses by meeting one class in the morning and one in the afternoon for ten meetings.

Albert Reeves

Mrs. C. J. Deal and son Hubert C. Birmingham recently visited or niece, Mrs. Agnes Ingram.

At the end of the game I was told that Elba won and boy was I glad. But I still thing they would have done much better if they hadn't been so dizzy and kept on their feet occasionally. But I enjoyed it just as it was.
